

Oromocto High School, the crowd of potential jurors and interested public being searched before being allowed to go through the metal detector and into the auditorium. (Carol Taylor's drawing materials bag was searched but she was allowed to keep her small exacto knife.)