

DEPARTMENT OF NURSING & HEALTH SCIENCES TERM ASSISTANT TEACHING PROFESSOR

Applications are invited for a 10-month term Assistant Teaching Professor position, with the potential for renewal, in the Department of Nursing & Health Sciences. This position primarily involves clinical practice and laboratory teaching responsibilities, with possible classroom teaching, in the undergraduate program. All candidates must have a Bachelor of Nursing degree. A graduate degree in nursing, either completed or in progress, will be considered an asset. We are looking for an enthusiastic instructor passionate about clinical education with a proven track record in teaching and a clinical focus in a variety of practice areas, with preference for those specializing in mental health or maternal / child nursing practice. Candidates for this position must be eligible for registration with the Nurses Association of New Brunswick and hold registration prior to appointment. Registration must be maintained throughout employment. This position is anticipated to commence on August 26, 2024 and is subject to final budgetary approval.

Our vision is to be the program of choice for nursing by seeking, applying and advancing nursing knowledge through exceptional and transformative teaching-learning experiences. The Department of Nursing and Health Sciences is part of a fully nationally accredited and approved provincial nursing program offering Bachelor of Nursing (BN) and Bachelor of Health Sciences degrees. We have four entry options into the BN program: our three- and four-year BN delivery models and our LPN Bridging and Step up to Nursing (work-study) models.

The University of New Brunswick Saint John is situated at Tucker Park and participates in an interprofessional educational approach for healthcare students. The university is adjacent to the Saint John Regional Hospital – a leading provincial tertiary care centre, Dalhousie Medical New Brunswick, and New Brunswick Community College Allied Health Programs. The city of Saint John has all the amenities of a large urban centre but maintains the friendliness and charm of a small city. Situated on the Bay of Fundy, Saint John is well-known for its historic architecture, high tides, thriving arts and culture community.

Review of applications will begin August 6th, 2024. Applicants should submit a curriculum vitae, a statement of nursing practice expertise, evidence of teaching excellence and teaching interest along with the names and contact information of three references to:

Catherine Hamilton, PhD
Chair, Department of Nursing & Health Sciences
University of New Brunswick Saint John
E-Mail: nursingsj@unb.ca

Short-listed candidates will be required to provide satisfactory proof of credentials including appropriately certified translations of credentials into English, as applicable.

The University of New Brunswick is committed to employment equity and fostering diversity within our community and developing an inclusive workplace that reflects the richness of the broader community that we serve. The University welcomes and encourages applications from all qualified individuals who will help us achieve our goals, including women, visible minorities, Aboriginal persons, persons with disabilities, persons of any sexual orientation, gender identity or gender expression. Preference will be given to Canadian citizens and permanent residents of Canada